The Newport Mercury,

—PUBLISHED BY—
JOHN P. SANBORN,
272 Thames, Cor. Pelham St.,
NEWPORT, R. I.

THE NEWPORT MERCURY was established in June, 1788, and is now in its one hundred and twenty-eighth year. It is the oldest newspaper in the Union, and with less than half a dozen exceptions, the oldest printed in the English language. It is a large quarto weekly of fifty-six columns filled with interesting reading—editorial, state, local and general news, well-selected miscellany and valuable farmers' and household departments. Reaching so many households in this and other States, the limited space given to advertising is very valuable to business men.

Local Matters.

Gallant Rescue at Block Island.

Captain D. B. Dodge and the crew of the Life Saving Station of New Shoreham have again made themselves conspicuous by another gallant rescue, the latest example of their alertness and endurance having occurred on Thursday night. It appears that about 9 o'clock on the night in question the patrol of the New Shoreham station discovered in the fog in the distance, the outlines of a craft which had got into the breakers and which appeared to be in momentary danger of being engulfed, the breakers being unusually violent. He at once burned his signal to give the alarm and this was immediately observed by Captain Dodge, who proceeded to arouse his men, they having retired to bed. The gallant crew rushed, only partially dressed, for their boat and in eight minutes they had her launched and were pulling toward Clay Head, where they discovered the sloop smack Nettie Poote, Captain Dunbar, of New London, in a perilous condition with her crew completely exhausted. The work of reaching the craft had been difficult in the extreme, for the life-saving crew had not only the fog to contend with but also the tremendous breakers. After gallant efforts Capt. Dodge and his crew succeeded in taking the smack into the Block Island harbor, having occupied but two hours in doing so. As it happened, Superintendent Dornay and Assistant Superintendent John Waters were upon the island making an official visit and are thus able to bear personal testimony to the excellence of the work performed by the rescuers. Capt. Dunbar of the rescued craft is a brother of the ice pilot of the ill-fated steamer Jeannette, which was lost in the Arctic regions, and it is a singular fact that Captain Dodge was able to save his life only a few weeks ago. Capt. Waters speaks in the highest terms of the rescuers, and it would appear from the circumstances of their last piece of work as if he did not overestimate their worth.

The School Board.

The regular monthly meeting of the school committee was held Monday evening, president J. H. Cozens in the chair. An amendment was made to the rules governing the election of teachers, and certain suggestions regarding truants were received from trustee Carr who reported that he had found 14 truants out of 105 complaints for the month. The reports of the music and drawing teachers were received. The superintendent was authorized to employ assistant teachers in the third grammar schools. The quarterly report of the Finance committee was as follows:

On Cranston's Harbor Island was a wall enclosure, within which the unfortunate who died in the asylum were buried, and memorial stones erected by the Asylum Commissioners. Recently these stones have been removed from their positions, and buried some two feet below the surface of the ground, but over the remains had previously marked. If we mistake not, some of these unfortunate were members of former prominent Newport families.

One of the sailors on board the U. S. S. Vandalia tried to drown himself Monday morning while suffering from a fit of temporary insanity. He was quickly rescued by those on board.

There was a large congregation at the United Congregational church Sunday to hear their former pastor, Rev. H. J. van Dyke, Jr., D. D., now of the Brick Presbyterian church of New York city.

A week from tomorrow will be Easter Sunday.

Sons of St. George.

On Tuesday evening a large delegation of prominent members of the Order of St. George arrived here for the purpose of instituting a lodge of the order and received a hearty welcome from the forty odd members of Roger Williams Lodge No. 205, which is the name given to the local branch of this very prosperous beneficial organization. Prominent among the delegation was District Deputy Grand President H. W. Scott, who has been chiefly instrumental in organizing the new lodge. Accompanying him were the following gentlemen, namely: Past President Mark Tempest and Chaplain David Eastwood of Peabody Lodge, Providence; P. P. Samuel Tattersall, P. P. Samuel Laycock, Treasurer John J. Wilkinson and Brother Walter Bennett of Samuel Slater Lodge; Treasurer, John Bray; Vice President G. W. Pierce, Past President George Pierce, Second Messenger J. R. Walker; Brothers William Pickles, William R. Clissold and John Laity of Beaconsfield Lodge, Past President H. Graham of Harris Lodge of Woonsocket; Past Presidents Isaac Nuttall and William Bell of Britannia Lodge, Taunton; Past President Henry Smith of Britannia Lodge, Lonsdale, and Past President Sandy Harrison, of U. S. Grant Lodge of Fall River. At 8 o'clock these gentlemen met in Republican Hall, where the future meetings of Roger Williams Lodge will be held, and proceeded with the work of institution and initiation, the following officiating as the officers of the Grand Lodge: District Deputy Grand President H. W. Scott; G. W. P. Henry Smith; G. V. P. Mark Tempest; G. F. M. George Pierce; G. S. M. Sandy Harrison; G. S. Samuel Laycock; G. T. Samuel Tattersall; G. I. S. Isaac Nuttall; G. O. S. William Bell; G. C. Herbert Graham. When the members of the new lodge had been initiated, they proceeded to an election of officers, the District Deputy presiding and the following were unanimously chosen:

President—Frank G. Harris.
Vice President—John Gilpin.
Treasurer—Joseph Taylor.
Scribe—William Simpson.
Assistant Secretary—T. B. Wilkinson.
First Messenger—Thomas Hall.
Past President—Charles Bickerton.

The following officers were subsequently appointed by the President: Chaplain—J. S. Cowles.
Outside Sentinel—E. T. Marland.
Second Messenger—John Callaghan.
Trustees—James Openshaw, John B. Smith, J. T. Howard.
These officers were subsequently installed by District Deputy Scott with the usual impressive ceremonies. After President Harris had been inducted into his office he made a brief address, and interesting speeches were made by Brothers Gilpin, Smith, Bickerton and Openshaw of Roger Williams Lodge, and by Messrs. Eastwood, Laycock, G. Pierce, Tattersall, Tempest, Bray and Nuttall of the visiting delegation. Following the formal proceedings a bountiful collation, the outcome of the generosity of some of the wives of the local members, was served.

Roger Williams Lodge starts out under very favorable auspices and promises to work much good in the community. Sons and grandsons of English parents, as well as English born men, are eligible for membership. Mr. Charles Bickerton has been largely instrumental in organizing this Order in Newport, and he was made Past President of Roger Williams Lodge.

Flag Presentation.

The members of St. Joseph's Total Abstinence Society and others of St. Joseph's parish gave an exceedingly interesting entertainment in Odd Fellows' Hall on Monday evening. The exercises included a flag presentation to the society from its lady friends and this, if nothing else, was sufficient to furnish an occupant for every seat and every foot of standing room. The flag is a handsome American banner of silk with heavy gold fringe and measures six by nine feet. On the staff is a silver plate with the following inscription:

To the Members of the St. Joseph's T. A. Society, with the best wishes of their Lady Friends,
April 12th,
1886.

The presentation was very prettily made by Miss Della Ledy and was received in behalf of the society by Dr. H. R. Storer with fitting remarks. Rev. Father Coyle was also the recipient of a beautiful bouquet from Miss Alice Mahoney. In addition to these exercises an interesting and lengthy musical programme was carried out.

Closing Pastorate.

Rev. Edgar F. Clark of the Thames street M. E. church, and Rev. Joseph Hollingshead of the Marlboro' street M. E. church, closed their respective pastorates last Sabbath. Both these gentlemen have been exceedingly popular in their positions and made strong friendships with the citizens generally and their departure from amongst us will be universally regretted.

Prof. J. Warren Andrews has had a two-story addition built to his cottage on Everett street.

Boat Building.

Benjamin S. Caswell is building a fine centre-board pleasure boat for his own use. Her dimensions are: 21 feet 6 inches in length with 9 feet 6 inches breadth of beam, and a depth of 34 inches. She has a trunk, will be cat-rigged, with all the latest improvements, and during the summer she will be in charge of Capt. Sidney Johnson, and will be completed in June.

Wm. B. Groff, has built during the winter two cat-boats, and a centre board yawl, and is now putting in order his fleet of pleasure boats for the coming summer.

The first class sail boat Nellie building for a gentleman in New York, by Thomas D. Stoddard, is fast approaching completion as is also one building by Lewis B. Caswell.

A visit to Spring Wharf made known to us the fact that Luke Bliven must have been busy during the winter having built the cat-boat Maud, with well, 22 feet long, 10 feet, 6 inches wide and 33 inches deep, for Arthur E. Dodge, New Shoreham, and another of the same style, the Helen R., 20 feet long, 9 feet 6 inches wide and 33 inches deep, for Littlefield, also of New Shoreham. He has another for himself 25 feet long, 11 feet 5 inches wide and 38 inches deep, centre board, with trunk, and called the Harriet. Mr. Bliven has had no less than eighty boats of all kinds hauled up on the wharf, and in his buildings during the winter, about one half that number have already been launched and got ready for the summer demand.

A general activity prevails along our entire water front, the boatmen and fishermen being preparing to resume their calling after a long and tedious winter's rest.

Sunday School Institute.

An Institute for Sunday school workers connected with the Narragansett Baptist Association was held in the First Baptist church in this city on Monday and Tuesday, commencing at 7:30 p. m. Monday evening and lasting through the morning, afternoon and evening of Tuesday. The meetings were of a very interesting and instructive character and were well attended. The programme consisted of an address Monday evening by Rev. Richard Montague of Providence on the unconverted in Sunday school; also an address same evening by Rev. J. H. Parsley of Woonsocket on "Perils in the Sunday School." Tuesday's exercises consisted of addresses on "How shall we qualify ourselves to teach?" by Rev. Chas. Braithwaite of Block Island; "The teacher's influence on character," by Rev. F. Purvis of Allentown; "Illustrative Teaching," by Rev. John L. Crane, Narragansett; "Sunday school music," by Rev. Theo. S. Snow, Wakefield; "The Sunday school as related to the past," by Rev. Dr. Bullen, Pawtucket; "The Educational Power of the Sunday school," Rev. Frank Rector, Newport.

Death of Mrs. John B. Wilson.

The Rome Daily Sentinel of Rome, New York, of April 9th says: "This morning at 2:30 o'clock Mrs. Sarah Wilson, wife of John B. Wilson, died at her home at the corner of Robert and East Bloomfield streets, of pneumonia, after about a week's illness, aged 50 years. The deceased was born in Rhode Island, and up to about seven years ago, when she removed with her husband to this city, resided in Providence. She was a lady of many excellent qualities, and during her residence in this city endeared herself to many friends and acquaintances. She was a devoted Christian, being identified with the Baptist Church. Besides a husband she leaves one brother, John F. Brownell of Bristol Ferry, R. I. Brief services were held at the late home of the deceased on Sunday at 9:30 p. m. The remains will be taken to Providence for interment." The deceased was the wife of Mr. John B. Wilson a native of Newport and a brother of Mr. Alfred Wilson the assistant Postmaster of New Bedford.

For the Extension of Suffrage.

An adjourned meeting of citizens interested in the extension of suffrage was held at Father Mathew's Hall, Wednesday evening, Mr. T. J. McDonald presiding. The committee appointed for the purpose at a previous meeting, reported a constitution and by-laws which were unanimously adopted, after which a permanent club was organized with the following officers:

President—Edward M. Neill.

The ground has been staked out for the new house on Rhode Island avenue to be erected for Col. A. C. Landers by Dent & Adams.

The brutalities practised upon the colored people in Mississippi were justly criticised at an indignation meeting held in Touro Chapel last evening.

The Old Colony railroad depot has received its spring cleaning.

Eating the Health of Prohibition.

Captain Frow B. Garnett, the popular and efficient captain of our police department, banqueting his entire force at the Clifton House Monday afternoon in honor of the prohibition amendment recently voted to the Rhode Island Constitution. In addition to Chief H. E. Turner, Jr., and his entire force in full-dress uniform, were Rev. Edgar F. Clark, pastor of the Thames street M. E. church, Mr. Geo. A. Littlefield, superintendent of our public schools, and five representatives of the press, completely surrounding two large tables.

Grace was offered at 1:45 by Rev. Mr. Clark after which the men sat down to one of Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham's very best dinners. After the numerous courses had been served and disposed of, cigars came on and pleasing remarks were made by Captain Garnett, Rev. E. F. Clark, Mr. George A. Littlefield, Chief of Police H. E. Turner, Jr., Mr. C. L. Thurston, Col. Frank G. Harris, Mr. John Gilpin and others, and the happy gathering broke up with the feeling that the enforcement of our laws could not be in better hands than at present.

A Serious Affair.

Andrew Pinion and wife, after struggling along together for about nine years, came to a separation recently and she took a small tenement on Ferry wharf. Nothing further was heard from them until between one and two o'clock Tuesday morning when Andrew marched into the police station bearing the half-dressed and blood-stained form of one George Seaforth, a cook on board the schooner ship New Hampshire. An explanation showed that Pinion had gained admission to his wife's apartments from the roof and, finding Seaforth occupying his former place, assaulted him with a stone which he had in his hand and finally pounded him to submission with the water-pitcher. Seaforth was badly bruised and seriously cut, his wounds requiring the active services of Dr. Barker for two hours.

All three of the parties are mulattoes and two were held for adultery and one for assault with a dangerous weapon.

The Women's Indian Association.

The local branch of the Women's Indian Association held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon. There was a large attendance and much interest manifested. The leading subject for consideration was the legislation for the Indians at present going on in Congress and interesting letters were read from Senator Aldrich and Representative Spooner, promising support for the Hampton and Carlisle industrial schools.

Unity Club.

There is to be a social re-union of the Unity Club next Tuesday the 20th., to which all the members are invited, as well as some outside friends. The gathering, no doubt, will be a pleasant one. All understand it is to be informal, and is to partake more of the character of a private tea-party than of a stated meeting. There are to be refreshments, readings and music.

Rev. and Mrs. Hollingshead, whose services with the First M. E. church closed last Sunday, were surprised at their personage on Monday by a visit of some fifty of their late parishioners. At the end of the very pleasant call the visitors took their departure, leaving behind them their best wishes for the family about to depart, and a goodly sum of money in gold as a present to Mrs. Hollingshead.

William H. Mayer met with quite a serious accident at his Rocky Brook farm in Portsmouth on Sunday. He was engaged in pulling hay from the loft for feeding when a bay-knife, which had been carelessly left in the snow, came down and, striking the back of his leg, completely severed the heel cord. He was attended by Drs. Ecroty and Rankin.

The annual session of the New England Southern Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church is held this year at Brockton, where it opened on Thursday last. This conference includes all of Rhode Island, Eastern Connecticut and Southern Massachusetts.

Mrs. Charles Wheeler of Philadelphia has rented her cottage on Bath road and Channing avenue to Rev. Wm. Lawrence of Cambridge, Mass., for the season.

Councils for recognition of church and examination of candidate met at 3.30 o'clock. Recognition and ordination services at 7 P. M., Moderator Rev. C. H. Rowe, So. Abington, clerk. D., Prof. of Church History in Newton Theological Seminary, text Deut. xxxiii:4; Hymn; Ordination Prayer by Rev. C. H. Rowe, South Abington; Hand of fellowship, Rev. A. E. Woods, Rockland; Charge to candidate, Rev. O. P. Gifford, D. D., Pastor of Warren Avenue Church, Boston; Charge to church, Rev. G. W. Rosworth, D. D., Secretary of Mass. State Convention; Hymn, composed for the occasion by J. N. Eno.

Let the messengers of heaven
To the world the new truth preach,
God's Anointed Son has given
Human creatures to reclaim.
Angels swell the wondrous song,
Praises to our God be sung.

As they teach the wondrous story,
"Peace on earth, good will to men."
Men accept the gifts of glory,
And the future is begun.
Work by angels thus begun,
Now by men to men is done.

Work that reaches highest heaven
And the lowest spot of earth,
Down the life, and heaven,
Of the new, the Spirit's birth;
Death is conquered by the Son,
By the Spirit, life begun.

Who could ask a nobler station,
Serving angels and men,
Set apart by ordination,
And commissioned from above?
Teach the world of life and hope,
Lift the faint and fallen up.

Fill thy preacher's soul with power,
Thy lips be thy truth revealed,
Blessings pour, in plenteous shower,
On his heart and on the field,
For the redemption of the world,
In redemption's Harvest Home.

Benediction by Rev. R. O. Sherwood.

Artillery Inspection.

On Monday evening last occurred the annual inspection of the Newport Artillery Company by the Adjutant General of the State. At an early hour the company under command of Col. Horton was drawn up to receive the distinguished visitors who arrived at about 8 o'clock. Among the number were Adjutant Dyer, and Assistant Adjutant General Hunter C. White and Representative William A. Harris of Providence, many of the officers of Fort Adams and Torpedo Station, the members of the General Assembly and City Council of Newport, and many other of Newport's prominent citizens. The Company was put through the various military evolutions and every thing showed careful training on the part of the officers. The gun squad did most effective work. After the inspection the assembled guests were invited below where a fine collation was served. The inspection passed off very pleasantly and the inspecting officer was very complimentary in his praise of the efficiency of the old Artillery Company.

A Question in Law.

Each of the five ward clerks of our city were called upon to provide certified copies of the voting lists used by them at the late state election, in accordance with section 7 of Chapter 21 of the General Statutes and City Clerk Stevens made a certified copy of the list of registry voters, showing the time each person registered and when and by whom his tax was paid. This was done at the request of Patrick J. Galvin, Esq., who is acting for a prominent lawyer of Providence who, it is understood, is to carry before the supreme court the question as to whether a vote cast by a registered voter whose tax was paid by other persons than himself is legal or illegal, and the certified lists referred to are to be used in discriminating between said registry voters providing the courts decide in the negative. This is done, undoubtedly, in the hope of quashing the vote on the prohibitory amendment.

Twenty Years in Congress.

The second volume of James G. Blaine's great work by this title is now ready for distribution and can be obtained of Mrs. T. J. L. Farrow, No. 8 Sanford street, who will continue the agency held by her late husband. The book will be distributed to subscribers and new subscriptions for the work will be taken by Mrs. Farrow the same as by her late husband. All those who have the first volume of this work will certainly want the second and those who wanted the work but preferred waiting until both volumes were completed will now do well to call upon Mrs. Farrow. The second volume promises to be even more interesting than the first and the two together form a history that no one can afford to be without.

Soldiers' Home in Rhode Island.

The following is the report of the joint committee of the General Assembly of Rhode Island at its January session, A. D. 1886.

The joint special committee, to whom was referred that portion of the report of the Commissioners for the relief of destitute soldiers, as relates to the establishing of a temporary Soldiers' Home, leave to report that they have given careful attention to the matter, that they have met and consulted with said Commission as well as with a large number of ex-soldiers and soldiers of this State, all of whom consider such a place of abode an immediate necessity. There are quite a number of destitute soldiers and sailors who cannot obtain admission to the National Homes, those institutions being filled to overflowing. Your committee is entirely agreed that the State should act in this matter in a prompt and generous spirit. The committee have respectfully submitted herewith an act authorizing the commissioners appointed under Chapter 488 of the Public Laws, to select a suitable place as a temporary home for Rhode Island veterans soldiers and sailors.

It is enacted by the General Assembly as follows: SECTION 1. The Commissioners appointed under chapter 488 of the Public Laws are hereby authorized to select a suitable place as a temporary home for Rhode Island veterans soldiers and sailors who are unable to obtain admission to any of the National Homes, and they shall practice for the support, care and maintenance of such soldiers or sailors with such person or persons as they may deem proper, and shall prescribe conditions for the admission of the inmates of the government of the Home as may to them seem best.

SECTION 2. The sum of five thousand, or so much thereof as may be needed, is hereby appropriated for the purpose of carrying this act into effect. Disbursed by the State Treasurer for such portions of said sum, or any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated. SECTION 3. This act shall take effect immediately on its passage.

That Corner Stone and Who Was Present.

Editor of the Newport Mercury:— Since your last publication, in which we mentioned the laying of the corner stone of the new store now being made in the front of the building for a new roomy and comfortable hotel, we have been asked by several of our most respectable citizens why a general celebration was not made on the occasion for they and very many others would like to have been present at the ceremonies attending this great attention in one of the oldest and best selected landmarks in the city. We reply could only say, that from the very little time allowed us to make the really needed preparations for so many guests, we were unable to give the necessary information. Further enquiry being made as to the number of persons present, we said that in the flesh there were no more besides the names in the article alluded to. Perhaps it was thought by many of those who read of this affair, that the usual unimportant crowd was to be seen, and the serious detriment to the prosperity of the home were there. Such, however, was not the fact. Not a solitary individual of that class was to be seen in the vicinity, really we never knew so quiet a morning for that kind of men. They being a believer in that "cloud of witnesses," which the bible says are always present, and who by their prayers and known prayers, were felt assured that there was rejoicing among them when they saw that the title in human affairs in this particular one, was turning towards the once famed respectability of this house, and of those residing there, a house that for many a century years, was a resort and enjoyed the presence of all that was good and intellectually great in our ancient city. Believing in the immediate presence of that "cloud of witnesses," and that they were more of us than we do of them, how many times for the last few years, have grieved over the decline of the ancient, renowned and venerated hotel, and how often we have been inspired by the name of United States Hotel. There was rejoicing among them, and we were assured that more assuredly there will be in the heart of every lady, of every age and condition in life throughout our city, that no longer in this locality will they be known as the "old people" who have for so many years, been languishing, for we feel confident, that with the name United States Hotel, among the (old people) who have for so many years, assembled around its premises, will also disappear may it be forever.

For every event to all good citizens, the improvements in this ancient landmark, when finished, will prove to be the very best that possibly could be made, and we believe, that we will express their feelings as well as our own, by wishing that peace and prosperity may ever attend those who will occupy the store, or other parts of the building, trusting that the business conducted therein will always be of that character which will lead to the good order and the much needed increase of the respectability of the neighborhood.

Mr. Patrick J. Galvin, counsel in Rhode Island for the plaintiff in the divorce case of Monjo vs. Monjo, leaves in a few days for Toledo, Ohio, where the case is set down for trial on the 26th inst. The husband obtained a decree of absolute divorce with the custody of the children, in New York on the 5th inst., and this decree will undoubtedly be sustained by the Ohio courts without trial.

Care of Swine.

It should be the aim of farmers in all sections to remove from pork the questionable reputation which it has had in some sections. American pork, it is known, is not allowed to enter the markets of some foreign countries. No doubt this prohibition is unjust, to some extent. But we should strive to raise the quality of pork both for foreign and domestic consumption.

Especially in the environs of cities and large towns, swine are frequently confined in close pens on tight floors, literally wading in their own filth and excrement, without a clean spot to eat and sleep. In this condition many of them are compelled to live from their birth to their death. Pork made under such circumstances cannot be healthy food. Swine need to be raised on the ground. Contact with the earth has a health giving influence. No animal can long remain healthy that is wholly deprived of fresh earth.

While this evil is greater in cities and villages than elsewhere, yet there are some farmers who have plenty of range about their premises, but treat their hogs little better than the city people and village dwellers do. They allow them to roam about in the mud, and to eat and sleep in the mud. The hog is a creature that needs a clean, dry place in which to make a bed. Nature, reason, and common sense dictate that swine, especially if their flesh is to be used by man, should run at large through the summer season, eating grass like cattle. Of this latter they are very fond, thriving upon it. Let them remain in pens or less than a few days, and they will be the poor for fattening.

The hog pen should be dry and airy. Let the food be grain, vegetables, fruit and milk, insuring the flesh of such hogs to be healthy and acceptably fat. Many persons who keep one or more hogs cannot pasture them, but they can certainly give them good, airy yards in connection with the stock. Most hogs will keep themselves clean, even when they have yards of their own. The farmer who owns should furnish the material for his hogs to convert into manure, thus combining health with thrift.

[Cor. American Cultivator.]

Leather Scraps as Manure.

The unreliability of chemical tests alone to determine the value of manure is strikingly illustrated by leather scraps, which, when analyzed chemically, are found to contain a large amount of ammonia, but in soil tests are found to be practically worthless. The ammonia which exists in the skin of the animal from which the leather is made is not destroyed by tanning, but is offset by the astringent substances used in it. Probably experiment would show that oak or hemlock bark is deleterious to vegetation. Oak land is commonly sterile when first cleared, but grows better as the country becomes older. Oak leaves have some astringent properties, and may injure vegetation by being blown on cultivated lands far beyond the reach of the roots of the trees on which they grew.

Pasturing Expenses.

Our pasturing system is a relic of days when land cost little or nothing, when all labor of feeding food for stock had to be done by hand at the greatest expenditure of labor. None of those conditions now prevail in any of the best farming sections of our older States. Land is dearer, and on fertile farms the grass that stock waste by tramping in getting their food for themselves is worth more than the labor of cutting and taking it to them, provided that it is done by mowing machines and muckers, and the trouble with most soiling experiments is that they are too small a scale to succeed. Hand labor in mowing grass costs as much or more than it ever did, and it is very certain that most men consider it a great deal harder work than it used to be reckoned.

Agricultural Notes and Hints.

No pruning at all is safer practice than the putting a sharp knife into the hands of an ignorant. It requires skill and knowledge of varieties and their peculiarities, which few possess, to prune apple and pear trees properly. What would be good treatment for one variety would be ruinous for others.

Much time on every farm is spent in doing small jobs, and if proper conveniences for these are not furnished, the time wasted is so much clear loss. A good farmer will try to have stock, grain, hay and roots, with water, all under one roof. This enables him to do the work with the least needless labor, and gives more time for necessary improvements.

After calves get so they will eat hay give them what they will eat clean of this and about one quart of oats daily. Without the grain, the hay will only keep them in store condition and worth little more at a year old than now. All the profit will come from the grain, and the farmer who sees this point will increase the grain feed all the animals will bear.

One thousand pounds of dry corn cobs will turn down to four and a half pounds of ash, and of this two and a half pounds will be pure ash. The fact that corn cobs often like corn cobs may be due to the potash they contain, and which may serve to correct disordered digestion. Corn cobs also contain about two pounds of nitrogen to one thousand of dry cobs, but this is, of course, lost by burning.

If judiciously used the farm roller may be made of much greater service than merely leveling uneven surfaces. That would be accomplished by rolling the soil as the seed was sown. By waiting until the grain is up another object is accomplished. The rollers break the crust about the plants are broken into the soil and compacted about the roots. This is the best possible cultivation for oats and barley.

The low price of flax seed is causing its more general use for stock feeding. Much care is needed in its use as it is very laxative, and if fed in too large quantities may cause too open a condition of the bowels. In small quantities it is excellent for any stock. Feed to cows or horses, with cut straw, it will do no injury, but rather good, as it helps to counteract the constipating character of the less nutritious feed.

Oats and peas are sometimes sown together, but only for local use, neither grain will sell for other purposes unless pure. It is claimed that more food can be grown with this mixture than by sowing oats or peas alone. The peas shade the ground so as to check the growth of small weeds, while the stronger stalks of oats push above and help to keep the peas from the ground. This crop thus grown is sometimes used for ensilage and is excellent for that purpose.

A good grade of dairy stock will select from better calves those likely to prove good for milk and butter. The art of selecting can scarcely be explained on paper, but a little experience will soon show the novice the qualities desired. The head should not be over large, the neck thin rather than thick, and the skin possessing a soft feel that can only be judged by an expert. Look to the complexion and milk veins. These are good indications of character as the pedigree.

The doctor of feeding calves by an artificial bag with rubber for teats, is not so advantageous in practice as in theory. As the animal grows older it must learn to drink by putting its mouth down to the water. The upward turn of the head, as in suckling, though natural, should be unlearned as soon as possible. A calf thus trained would always naturally take to suckling cows, and it will be difficult to break the habit. This method may be an advantage for feeding calves intended to be fattened, as they will gain faster or when suckling than when drinking an equal quantity of new milk from the pail.

Lettuce is almost always sown too thickly. The seed is very small and it is impossible to distribute it thinly enough by hand unless mixed with some divider. Wheat bran is as good as anything. Cover the seeds very lightly and press down with a hoe. No very strong weeds will come up, the crop will cover the surface if the soil is rich enough, if ordinary care is used in sowing. If plants come up in masses the leaves are stunted and worthless. Lettuce old enough to pick may be transplanted any time during the summer, and each root will make a large head before fall.

Fresh animal excrement is not food for plants. If diluted with water and poured about their roots it will often for a time do more harm than good. In fact, very strong urine will generally kill any plant to which it is applied, especially if an annual. Its effect is to rot and burn the roots rather than to feed them. When fermented with other fertilizing matter this acid condition is changed, and the compost becomes intensely active in stimulating growth. In applying large amounts of stable manure per acre some fermentation goes on in the soil before the roots reach the manure.

What Baking Powder Shall We Use.

This plain question comes home to every housekeeper. We all desire pure and wholesome food, and this cannot be had with the use of impure or poisonous baking powder. There can be no longer a question that all the cheap, lower grade of baking powders contain either alum, lime or phosphoric acid. As both we may be to admit so much against what may have been some of our household gods, there can be no gainsaying the unanimous testimony of the official chemists. Indeed, analysts seem to find no baking powder entirely free from some one of these objectionable ingredients except the Royal, and that they report as chemically pure. We find some of the baking powder advertised as pure, to contain, under the tests of Prof. Chandler, Halbitsham and others nearly twelve percent of lime, while others are made from alum with no cream of tartar. This is a profit account for their lack of levitating power is sometimes complained of by the housewife, and for the bitter taste found in the biscuits so frequently complained of by our readers.

But aside from the inferiority of the work done by these powders, the physiologists assure us that lime and alum taken into the system in such quantities as this are injurious. They are not decomposed by heat, nor dissolved in mixing or baking. They go with the bread, therefore, into the stomach, where their physiological effects are let them report as chemically pure. We find some of the baking powder advertised as pure, to contain, under the tests of Prof. Chandler, Halbitsham and others nearly twelve percent of lime, while others are made from alum with no cream of tartar. This is a profit account for their lack of levitating power is sometimes complained of by the housewife, and for the bitter taste found in the biscuits so frequently complained of by our readers.

The question naturally arises, why do these cheap baking powder makers use these things? Alum is three cents a pound, lime still cheaper, while cream of tartar costs thirty-five or forty. The reasons for the chemical purity of the Royal Baking Powder were recently given in the New York Times in an interesting description of a new method for refining tartar, or cream of tartar. It seems that it is only under this process that cream of tartar can be freed from the lime natural to it and rendered chemically pure; that the patents and plant for this cost the Royal Baking Powder Company about half a million dollars, and that they maintain exclusive control of the rights.

Prof. McMurrie, late chief chemist of the Department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C., in the interests of commerce, made an examination of this process, and reported upon the results attained in the refined cream of tartar. The following extract from his report would seem to answer the question repeated at the head of this article, and which is so frequently pronounced by the housekeeper:

"I have examined the cream of tartar used by the Royal Baking Powder Company in the manufacture of their baking powder, and find it to be perfectly pure, and free from lime in any form. The chemical tests to which I have submitted the Royal Baking powder prove it perfectly healthful, and free from every deleterious substance."

The Care of the Hands.

Women whose pretty hands are being ruined by washing in hard water should know that water can be easily softened with a few drops of ammonia, or, what is better, a small lump of borax. Warm water into which enough borax has been dissolved to make the water feel a little slippery when pressed between the thumb and finger, is very good for washing the hands. Hands kept dirty and absolute cleanliness is necessary.

Many people who do not work with their hands but seldom. The possessor wonders why, when she does not work her hands do not look any better, if as well as her chambermaid's. The hands should always be washed in warm soap suds before going to bed. Warm soaps are the safest. After the hands are thoroughly dried, use a few drops of mixed glycerine and camphor. Drop into the palm oil on the hands. This will be all that will be necessary to show decided improvement.

Household Hints.

Drain-pipes and all places that are sour or impure may be cleansed with lime-water or carbolic acid. Oil of lavender will drive away flies. Grained wood should be washed with cold tea.

If a bedstead creaks at each movement of the sleeper, remove the slats and wrap the end of each in old newspapers. This will prove a complete silencer.

Carpets should be thoroughly beaten on the wrong side first, and then on the right side, after which spots may be removed by the use of ox-gall or ammonia and water.

[Cayenne pepper blown into the cracks where ants congregate will drive them away. The same remedy is also good for mice.]

If gilt frames, when new, are covered with a coat of white varnish, all specks can then be washed off with water without harm. Strong brine may be used to advantage in washing bedsteads. Hot alum water is also good for this purpose. Heliochrome sprinkled on the floor at night destroys cockroaches. They eat it and are poisoned.

Mortar and paint may be removed from windowglass with hot, sharp vinegar.

Furniture needs cleaning as much as other woodwork. It may be washed with warm suds quickly, wiped dry, and then rubbed with an oily cloth. To polish it rub with rotten-stone, or sweet oil. Clean of the oil and polish with chamois skin.

When hand-finished walls have been washed or scraped off before a new one is put on. This is the most disagreeable process. The furniture should be covered, as the lime makes spots that are removed with difficulty, especially upon black walnut.

Remove flower-pot stains from window sills by rubbing with fine wood ashes, and rinse with clean water.

Cold cream, which easily becomes rancid, may be preserved by the addition of a small amount of salicylic acid. A medical journal says that in carrying children in the arms one should be taken not to carry them habitually on the same side, as this tends to make them one-sided.

A good finger-nail polish is pure oxide of tin mixed with cornmeal, and perfumed to suit. Apply by rubbing on the nail either with a finger or a nail-polisher covered with leather.

Recipes for the Table.

CHINESE RICE.—Boil nicely (so the grains will be distinct) enough rice to fill a pint mould when done. Dissolve half an ounce of gelatine in a little milk. While the rice is still hot put in one ounce of butter, and some sugar and vanilla to taste. When it gets cold add the gelatine and half a pint of whipped cream. Put in a mould, and when set serve with cream of preserved fruit. Enough sugar must be used to sweeten the additions of gelatine and cream.

A BREAD CRUMB OMELET.—Is excellent if served with roast lamb or veal. One pint of bread crumbs, a large spoonful of parsley, rubbed very fine, half of a small onion chopped fine. Beat two eggs lightly, add a teaspoonful of milk, a trace of nutmeg, and pepper and salt liberally; also a lump of butter the size of a small egg. Mix all together, and bake in a shallow oiled buttered plate; when light brown turn out of the plate and serve at once.

STEWED PORTULACA OXIDES.—Pea the onions, cut off tops and roots, but not too closely, or the onions will break in cooking; put them into a wide stewpan, one that will hold all the onions without touching each other. Add enough water to cover them, and simmer very gently until quite tender. Make a sauce of a little of the water in which the onions are stewing—having previously strained them carefully roots upward on a hot dish—thickened with butter and flour mixed together first, season with salt and pepper, then stir over the fire before pouring over the onions.

PEAS AND BUTTERED EGGS.—Stew a pint of young peas with a tablespoonful of butter, a little salt, pepper and chopped parsley until quite tender; beat up the yolks and whites of two eggs in a basin, pour over the peas when they are ready, and serve as quickly as possible on a hot dish. This dish must be sent to the table very quickly, or else the eggs will harden.

STEWED GREEN PEAS.—Take a pint of young peas and two young leeks, cut the latter up small, and put them with the peas into a saucepan with a small cupful of water and a little salt. Let them stew very gently until quite tender, then add a lump of white sugar, the yolks of two eggs well beaten, and two tablespoonfuls of cream. Stir all together for a short time, but do not allow the mixture to boil.

VEGETABLE SOUP.—Fill your pot about half with water, parse enough potatoes to make it full, add a few scraps and grate three good-sized carrots; grate also one sweet turnip. Put in as many onions as you judge best, nicely sliced; add a lump of dripping as large as an egg. When your soup is rich and pulpy add pepper and salt, six cloves and a pinch of mixed spice. Eat with barley scones. You may omit the dripping.

ANISE SEED CAKES.—Stir, but beat four eggs, with one pound of powder, and sugar for half an hour. Then add one tablespoonful of anise seed, a pinch of slowly, stirring constantly, a pound of flour sifted through a sieve. Put the mixture on a broad board, roll it out and cut in different shapes. Place them on tin sheets greased; let them stand in a warm place for twelve hours or longer. Bake slowly.

VEGETABLE FAMILY SOUP.—Two pounds of lean beef, half an onion, one large carrot, one turnip, quarter of a cabbage heart, two fair-sized potatoes, one tablespoonful of minced parsley, two stalks of celery, pepper and salt, three quarters of a pound of brown flour. Put the beef over the fire in the cold water, and cook slowly three hours. An hour before taking it from the fire prepare the vegetables. Shred the cabbage, cut turnips, celery, carrots and potatoes into dice, and slice the onion. Cook them half an hour in boiling, salted water. Drain this off and throw it away. By this time the meat should be tender, but not in shreds. Add the prepared vegetables to it and the broth, put in the celery, pepper and salt to taste. Cook all for fifteen minutes; stir in a great spoonful of brown flour wet with cold water; boil up and pour out.

BOILED RICE.—One and a half cups of rice are carefully picked over to remove all unshelled kernels. Wash the rice thoroughly in several waters to remove every particle of starch, so that the last water is perfectly clear. Have a gallon of well-salted water boiling, and add the rice. Turn the rice into this and let it boil for ten minutes. Then drain the rice, letting it stand on the back of the stove half covered until it is dry, and serve. Each grain of rice will be thoroughly cooked and distinct. The rice must boil ten minutes. The large quantity of water keeps the rice active, preventing it from adhering to the pan.

Pigs' Feet.—Put four feet in a saucepan with cold water, pepper corns, whole cloves and allspice, adding salt, and boil them until the bones are loose. Remove all the bones and put the meat in a stone jar, strain, and quart of the water in which the feet were boiled, add one pint of vinegar and boil for five minutes. At the end of this time turn the vinegar and water over the meat from the pigs' feet, completely covering it, and keep in a cool place. The mass will be like jelly, and is cut as needed. If desired, it may be put in bowls and turned out on the dish before serving.

LOBSTER SALAD.—Yolks of two raw eggs, yolks of two hard-boiled eggs, two teaspoonfuls of oil, a dash of cayenne pepper, two tablespoonfuls of cold cream, two of made mustard, five teaspoonfuls of strong vinegar, rub to a smooth paste the hard-boiled yolks, mustard, salt, pepper and raw yolks; then add slowly the oil, the vinegar, and when it is smooth stir in the cream; have lobster chopped and put over the salad, ornamenting with the coral and whites of eggs. The above quantity is sufficient for two lobsters.

BILIOUSNESS.

Bilious symptoms invariably arise from indigestion, such as, furred tongue, vomiting of bile, giddiness, sick headaches, irregular bowels. The liver secretes the bile and acts like a filter or sieve, to cleanse impurities of the blood. By irregularity in its action or suspensions of its functions, the bile is liable to overflow into the blood, causing jaundice, sallow complexion, yellow eyes, bilious diarrhoea, a languid, weary feeling and many other distressing symptoms. Biliousness may be properly termed an affection of the liver, and can be thoroughly cured by the grand regulator of the liver and biliary organs, BURDOCK BLOOD PURIFIER. It acts upon the stomach, bowels and liver, making healthy bile and pure blood, and opens the culverts and sluiceways for the outlet of disease. Sold everywhere and guaranteed to cure.

Ho! for Bargains

To those who have a wish to buy a nice

Buggy, Carryall Cart Rockaway, Open Wagon, Hack, Lan-

dan, Sleigh, English Road-cart,

Phaeton!!

Or most anything in the carriage line

Cheap for Cash,

As "the winter of our discontent" is near at hand, as several of my customers have neglected to come up with the cash as per agreement long since made so to do.

I have in stock some very nice

WHITE CHAPED TOP BUGGIES!

Which I will sell now AT COST, as money is very much wanted to pay my bills, which will soon be due, and ought to be paid, like a good citizen.

I have several nice EXTENSION TOP CARRYALLS, on hand which I will sell very cheap, as this is the dull season for this style of carriage.

I have a few SECOND HAND COUPE CARRYALLS, with Partition Front, just the carriage for stormy and cold weather, which will do the service of a five hundred dollar carriage, for less than one-fourth of the amount.

Several SECOND-HAND PHAETON TOP BUGGIES for $50.00 each and upwards. Also a few SLEIGHS and FUNGS, CHEAP. It will soon be time to use them, and you had better get ready in time, for as the Good Book says: "Be ye ready always." Wish I could say as much. Now come up and put that surplus cash of yours where it will do the most good. We also do all kinds of

at as low rates as it can be done, and warrant the stock and labor to be FIRST CLASS.

House Painting.

of all kinds from the largest job to the smallest, done in the best manner, and as cheaply as by any of our friends in the same kind of business.

DON'T WAIT until you want your house painted, but make the contract NOW, as by so doing you can SAVE MONEY, and get better work than by waiting until the rush comes on, when every one is red hot with work, and "don't care whether school keeps or not."

To my old customers and cash-paying friends, God bless you, and I wish you a Happy and Merry Christmas.

To my friends who have never paid as they agreed, if they will repent now, they too will have a MERRY CHRISTMAS, and I shall have a pleasant New Year receiving their accounts, all of which is respectfully submitted for the dear people's consideration by

EASTER SALE

KID GLOVES.

We have this season made large preparations in our Kid Glove Department and are pleased to state that we are now able to exhibit to the ladies of Newport a complete assortment of both dressed and undressed gloves, in all the latest styles and finish.

Our standard make, the Constantine glove, has been tested now so long by our customers, to their and our own advantage, that we need not speak of their merit, but would call attention to the following special prices during this sale and which are bona fide bargains:

20 dozen Kid Gloves at 62 cents. Gloves sold at $1 cannot give better satisfaction than these do.

15 dozen 4-button embroidered Dogkins at $1. These are heavier than Kid Gloves but fully as soft and elastic.

15 dozen 4-button Undressed, handsomely embroidered in silk stitch back, and the latest novelty at $1; every pair warranted.

20 dozen Mousquetaire Undressed, 75 cents; fully worth $1.

20 dozen Mousquetaire Undressed, extra length, price heretofore $1.40; during this sale only $1.20.

12 dozen Mousquetaire Undressed, with a new style of silk points, at $1.50. Every pair warranted.

One lot Children's Kid Gloves reduced from 75 cents to 50 cents a pair.

Ladies examining our gloves can easily distinguish the difference between them and inferior quality usually offered at low prices.
